

THE NEXT GENERATION HYDRATION

Aquablu

OUR MISSION

In the last decade, the human race has achieved more than ever imagined. Yet, our drinks are still trapped in plastic and aluminum containers.

If we don't curb our plastic output, in 2050 our oceans will contain more plastic than fish. 50 years after the introduction of the plastic water bottle, it's time to rethink the way we hydrate.

Join us on our mission of saving 1 billion plastic bottles by 2030.

An underwater scene showing significant plastic pollution. Large pieces of white and blue plastic bags and debris are visible, along with many small white plastic fibers. Several small, striped fish are swimming in the blue water. The overall tone is somber and highlights environmental damage.
